Let Your Voice Be Heard

Farmers sometimes have been hampered by ill-advised action in Washington. Congress and department heads have seemed out of touch with rural thought and deeds. Other interests have absorbed too much of the attention of national officials.

This has happened because the single farmer can seldom make his voice heard. It is time that Congress gave more heed to the great agricultural population.
And when farmers' wants are expressed through a common spokesman, backed by an increasing number of farmers, Washington must listen and act.

The Grange has such a spokesman at Washington. Through him it has forestalled many moves hurtful to agriculture. Government officials know its arguments are sound and free from radicalism.

Many issues vital to the success of farming will come before the new Administration and Congress. The Grange offers you the chance to make your voice heard.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, too, maintains a Washington representative to watch after the farmers' interests. His articles will keep you in close touch with governmental activities of vital importance to farmers. And that is only one of the ways by which its national farm-news service will aid you. Every week it brings a dozen keen articles, interesting fiction, helpful editorials
and enjoyable humor.

ONE DOLLAR for a year's subscription (52 issues) will buy big value in benefit and entertainment.
Let our secretary forward your order—today!

A MOTHER'S TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

West Buxton, (Me.)—To read of Mrs.
Arthur Campbell's experience is harrowing. Imagine her feeling—she writes: "I am a mother of five children.
My little girl, two years old was so sick with fever she lay just as if she were dead for two weeks. I started giving her Dr. True's Elixir and she began to gain at once. Now I would not be without it. I feel very grateful to you."

No doubt this child had some stomach trouble due to worms. Scores of children have worms and their mothers
don't know the trouble.

Symptoms of worms: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with pain about the navel, pale face, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose and rectum, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points
on the tongue, starting during sleep,
slow fever.

Dr. True's Elixir has been faithful in its duties as a family Laxative and Worm Expeller, since 1861.

WEST PARIS

John Bonkalinon was found dead in the road above Gerald Swift's on the Greenwood road Monday afternoon. He was driving his double team from his wood lot in Greenwood and is supposed to have fallen off his team probably from heart failure. He purchased the farm on Curtis Hill formerly owned by Hiram J. Bacon. A widow and two of three small children survive. He was a native of Finland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perham have broken up housekeeping. Mrs. Perham is with her mother in Portland at the present time.

There was a quiet wedding at the Universitat parsonage Monday morning at 8.30, when Mr. Verner Smith was united in marriage with Miss Ruby Bethell, Rev. H. A. Markley officiating.
The young couple left on the morning
train for a wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings were given a variety shower at the home of H. L. Cummings, Woodstock, Thursday evening. A double team carried a load from West Paris, and a party was also present from South Woodstock. Mr.
and Mrs. Cummings received a good number of useful and pretty presents.
The party was arranged to come on Mr.
Cummings' birthday.

The remains of Mrs. Birdie Cummings
deceased of Portland were brought here Friday morning and taken to Greenwood, where a funeral service was held at the church. Rev. H. H. Hathaway officiated. The remains were taken to the funeral home for burial.

CANTON

Mrs. Maurice J. Hoves of Cumberland Mills has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Arthur L. Tirrell, and family.

Donald Bonney has returned home
from the hospital.

Sherman Dillon of Stratton is visiting
in town.

Mrs. Annie Longel of Hartford passed away Wednesday at the home of her son, Frank Longel, at the age of 72 years. She had been a resident of Hartford for about two years; her former home being in Nova Scotia. The funeral was held Friday, Rev. Frank M.
Lamb officiating. The interment was at East Sumner. Two other sons, Avery from East Sumner, and one from New Bedford, Mass., were present, also a daughter, Mrs. Smith and husband from Boston. She is also survived by several grandchildren.

Mrs. Philura Strout attended the funeral of Mrs. Martha Latham of Livermore Falls.

Earl H. Marston Post, American Legion, will hold a grand ball at the Opera House Thursday evening, Jan. 27. A fine supper will be served.

Word has been received of the illness of Edwin Thompson of Auburn, and formerly of Canton.

Miss Irma Sawyer of Hartford is stopping at the home of O. M. Richardson and attending high school.

The installation of officers of Pone-mah Rebekah Lodge was held Friday evening. The installing officers were D. D.
P. Mrs. Kathleen Lee and D. D. G. M.
Miss Vivian Brown of Rumford, assisted by Past Noble Grand Mrs. Etta Gilbert, Mrs. Helen A. Eastman, Mrs.
Evelyn B. York, Mrs. Blanche Richardson and Mrs. Ethel Goding. The officers installed were:

N. G.—Mrs. Caro Harding
V. G.—Mrs. Cora B. Fuller
Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Fannie B. Lucas
Fin. Sec.—Mrs. Velda Bicknell
Treas.—Mrs. Aimee Chamberlin
R. S. N. G.—Mrs. Etta Gihart
L. S. N. G.—Mrs. Evelyn York
Warden—Mrs. Merle Davis
Conductor—Mrs. Ethel H. Johnson
R. S. V. G.—Mrs. Helen A. Eastman
L. S. V. G.—Miss Gertrude Berry

O. M. Richardson was appointed degree master and Mrs. S. B. Ellis pianist. After the installation gifts in silver were presented to the installing officers by Mrs. Fannie B. Lucas, in behalf of the lodge. Pleasant remarks were made by the installing officers and several members. An excellent supper was served at the close. Mrs. Lee and Miss Brown were entertained while in town at the home of Mrs. E. L. Goding.

The installing of the officers of Re-green Chapter, O. E. F., was held Tuesday evening of this week.

The farm home of Oscar E. Hardy was burned to the ground last Wednesday evening. A portion of the furniture was saved, but the large family lost all their clothing. It was apparent to have caught from a defective or oversight of chimney. The young son, Robert, who had gone to bed upstairs heard the roaring and gave the alarm. The burn was saved. There was $100 insurance on the house but none on the contents. The neighbors are eating for the family. Mr. Hardy was burned quite badly about the face in trying to save the furniture.

Mrs. A. H. Adams is ill.
Miss Mildred Horney of Turner has been a guest of Mrs. A. P. York and family.

John W. Mahoney and family of Lewiston have moved to the Mitchell farm
in Hartford.

Mrs. E. K. Hollis and daughter, Marguerite, went to Portland to hear the great pianist, Josef Hoffman, recently.

A slight fire started in the grist mill
last week which was soon extinguished.
A benefit entertainment will be held at the Grange Hall, Wednesday evening,
Feb. 2.

Both the boys' and girls' basketball teams from Canton went to Rumford to play Friday evening. Both teams were defeated, the Rumford boys winning in a score of 33 to 19, and the Rum-ford girls 26 to 6.

ALBANY

Fifteen members of Round Mountain Grange accepted the invitation of Waterford Grange to an all day meeting and installation of officers on Saturday, Jan.
22. With the cordial reception which made one feel at home at once, and interesting entertainment given by Waterford Grange their guests certainly spent a delightful day.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Andrews and son,
Richard, were Sunday guests of his parents, L. J. Andrews and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leighton recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Greenwood.

Miss Jennie Bean is spending a few days in Lewiston. She also attended the Greek play, "Iphigenia in Tauris," presented by members of the Phil-Hellenic

What the Great Minds of All-Time Say About Music

This is a remarkable statement coming as it does from the head of our educational system.

After the beginnings of reading, writing, arithmetic and geometry, music has greater practical value than any other subject taught in the schools.

RUMFORD

Mrs. George Brown and her sister Miss Agnes Goodwin, are on a visit to Massachusetts. Before returning they expect to spend a day with Mrs. Martin Griffin at her home in Taunton, Mass. Mrs. Griffin was a former inhabitant of Rumford.

Geneva and Elinore Green of Strathglass Park, also the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Jenkins, are ill with the measles.

Eddie Harpe, who is at the McCarty Hospital, is improving quite fast.

The sale of Christmas Seals in Oxford County amounted this year to $1062.71, according to the report of the County chairman, Mrs. L. D. Mason of South Paris. While this sum falls short of the County's quota which was $3918.00, still it is encouraging to think that the sum raised is over $900 more than it was last year.

The Christmas Basket Committee, through its treasurer, Elias McKenna, has just completed its annual report, and after taking care of the needy in this community, shows a good balance on hand to start its work in 1921. This charity work is not only for the Christmas season of the year, but is continued during the entire year, and any case that is brought to the attention of the committee is attended to.

Mrs. Robert Robar of Hall street is confined to her home by illness.

Friends are sympathizing with Geo. Inman because of the death of his father, Tom Inman, of Berlin, N. H.

Mrs. Harry Guilmond is receiving congratulations upon the birth of twin sons.
Mrs. Endie Frazier is very ill at her home in the Virginia District. Much sympathy is felt for her, she being Miss Gladys Thomas before her marriage last spring.

A fine gift from the Sons of Veterans of Rumford has been received by the Rumford Public Library. A set of Adjutant General Reports; another set of books in the photographic history of the Civil War, also War Papers, Regimental Issues in the American Civil War. This gift is much appreciated. Eleven volumes of Harper's Pictorial Library of the World War have been purchased and placed in the Public Library. One hundred best novels in four volumes condensed, edited by E. A. Goucher have also been put in circulation recently. Another new book is "Kinship of the Past" by Peter B. Kyne.

"The Strong Heart" by Maud Oliver is also a new book of fiction which has just been added to the library.
Mrs. P. E. McCarthy is receiving the sympathy of her friends upon the death of her mother, Mrs. Ada Latham of Livermore Falls at whose home she died. She leaves beside her husband, three daughters and one son.

"The Young Women" of the Baptist church, a class of young ladies taught by Mrs. Charles Harriet, are planning a very amusing play in the near future. The title of the play is "Brave Point." The parts have already been assigned.

Mrs. Ida Parlin Garland of Massachusetts is in town stopping with Mrs. Edward Brown of Washington street, who is in very poor health.

On Thursday evening of this week the first concert and ball given by the Rumford Local, No. 741, American Federation of Musicians will take place at Municipal Hall. A battle of music, Dexter's Orchestra vs. Melanson's Harmony Sextette. There will be great fun. A concert will be given at 7.45 by the Third Infantry Band lasting one hour. Dancing will then begin, lasting until 1 A. M.

The Rumford District Sunday School Association will meet in the local Methodist church on Feb. 3.

A 11 and 3-4 pound son was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fitzmorris of Cumberland avenue. The baby has been named Edward James.

S. J. Haselton, Chapman St., Bethel, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly all right and I can recommend them. I had a severe spell of rheumatic trouble and after I began to get better, my kidneys showed signs of disorder. My left leg was drawn up and very painful. Backache annoyed me considerably, too. Someone advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I went to Bosserman's Drug Store and got three boxes. When I had finished taking Doan's, I was relieved."

hy, O. J. Gony, Matthew McCarthy and Herbert Farnham. The town has been divided into sections for soliciting, and the work started this week. Rumford's quota is $1,400. The committee has arranged for a speaker to appear at the two theatres, outlining the work and doings of the European Council Fund.

The sudden death of Mrs. Laura Elliott of Rumford Point, well known in Rumford, came as a great shock to her relatives and many friends. Mrs. Elliott had been spending the winter in Boston, and returned to town on the Monday afternoon train, riding from Rumford to Hanover by stage that night. She was first taken sick on the train, although not feeling extremely sick until the latter part of the trip. She died at the home of her mother in Hanover at 11 o'clock on Monday night, cause being due it was said to leakage of the heart and double pneumonia.

The Oxford Paper Company laid off 125 men on Saturday night last, in order to reduce labor costs throughout the mill.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Harris of Prospect avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coke of Pine street left on Monday of this week for a trip south. A Little Bit Shy

By RAY LEWIS

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

There are advantages in having three older sisters—and there are disadvantages. Tonight Thomas Bradley Morse was keenly aware of the latter.

"Why in Sam Hill," he was muttering, "can't the girls let me alone? I hate girls. And why should I just to please a bunch of sisters, get a girl to tag around after?"

Suddenly he whistled. Such an idea as he had!

"It's so disagreeable," lamented Belle, "to have a brother whom you manage finally to drag to a dance, only to have him stay out on the balcony and smoke."

"I wouldn't care," sighed Janice, "if I could only say, 'Oh, my brother—' he's engaged to a girl out West!" or "He's terribly interested in an out-of-town girl!" But to have a brother who simply won't look at a girl—why, it makes him so different from the other boys!

Janice had given him the idea. If being interested in an out-of-town girl would satisfy them, why, with a little subterfuge, he could manage that.

The firm for which he was draftsman expected to send him out of town for a few days, and when he came back he would announce his near-engagement.

A week later Tom was sent as he had anticipated, and two weeks afterward he returned. His trip had been most interesting, partly because of the success of his errand and partly because of the attractions of the brown-eyed daughter of Architect Smith, with whom he had been dealing.

The family had gathered about him in the living room. In fact, he was suddenly aware that the assembly had all the earmarks of a family conclave, with himself as the victim.

"How old are you, Tom, dear?" asked Elsie tentatively.

"Sam Blake is to be married next month," remarked Belle, apropos of nothing at all.

"Oh, Tommy," Janice apparently could contain herself no longer, "there's the nicest girl staying at the Bronsons—"

That was as far as she got. Tom rose with dignity and gazed blandly around. "She arrived too late. My interests are firmly fixed elsewhere!"

"Tom!" The word was the amalgamation of three shrieks. Then, "Who is she?" "Where does she live?" "What does she look like?" were hurled at him simultaneously.

"Well, she doesn't live in this burg," said Tom grimly.

"It must be Philadelphia," cried Belle.

"Lovely," murmured Janice. "What is her name?"

Now Tom had forgotten that she must have a name, and the question was so sudden that he spoke before he thought. Had he thought, he would not have uttered the promptings of his mind, most certainly. "Mary Smith," he said then, which he back immediately.

"It's delightful," said Elsie.

At Tom, suggested by his own declaration, a party, contented in their present lot, they turned to the fact that Mary Smith, who had been in the office all but one day.

Janice had been telling him so to the fact that she was a girl. "She has been in the office all but one day," she had said, "and she is a girl."

"My brother," he said, "you don't know how I wish I could see you again. I wish I could see you every day and my heart is getting to the point where I can think of starting our little home. Always your Tom."

"It's a beautiful," commented Elsie, then watched him as he addressed the envelope carefully. "Miss Mary Smith, Room 200, Philadelphia, Pa."

A week later, Tom, arriving from the office, found three eager girls awaiting him. "Here's your answer!" they cried.

"To what?" asked the unsuspecting Tom.

"Why, to the one to Mary that you forgot and I mailed," cried Janice, holding out a small, pale blue envelope.

Gingerly, as one would handle a package in which he feared a bomb, Tom received and opened it. Then he smiled happily. "What's it about?"

"I'm afraid," and Tom beamed gently upon them, "it was meant for my eyes alone!"

"Many times he reread it."

"Your letter came as a surprise, although I had hoped you would write. And I think a letter must have preceded it which I did not get. This one seemed so very definite from a person whom I had thought a little bit shy! I can't say for sure what I think of it—until I see you. When will business bring you this way again?"

It was after Tom's sisters returned from the wedding and from seeing Tom and his bride off on a tour through the Berkshires that Janice said wonderingly: "Why do you suppose Tom told us her hair was brown?"

"And her eyes were blue?" asked Elsie.

"And her father was a shoe merchant!" added Belle.

But none of them found out.

NORTH PARIS
EARLE THOMAS HOLLIS

Our community was greatly saddened on the morning of Jan. 24th by the death of Earle T. Hollis, the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hollis.

He had been suffering for several days with boils on various parts of the body and at last one on his face developed blood poisoning, and although a skilled doctor and nurse were employed they could not conquer the disease.

Besides the father and mother above mentioned he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. James Abbott of Woodstock, Mrs. A. B. Chute of Auburn, and Eliza, both Hollis, also one brother, Carl, a student in the High School.

Earle had a cheerful, sunny disposition and a big sense of humor which made him a general favorite wherever he was known and he will be missed by a host of friends and acquaintances.

Earle was a member of the first class to graduate from West Paris High School in 1918. Since then he has assisted his father on the farm, taught three terms of school, and for a time clerked in the Brown, Buck & Co. store at Norway.

He was a member of West Paris Grange and had been elected steward for the present year.

His age was 20 years, 1 month, 10 days.

William Littlehale went with others from the West Paris High School to Norway to attend the basketball game with Norway High School.

Frank Cotton is again stopping at John Butterfield's.

Alfred D. Andrews loaded a car of pulp on Monday.

Bertrise Andrews spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Andrews. On Monday she visited the Porter school doing rural helping work.

Mrs. Emma Barrett of Sumner Hill is visiting her niece, Mrs. A. D. Andrews. For some weeks she has been suffering with some disease of the eyes which necessitates the wearing of dark glasses.

Dr. Sullivan Andrews of Lewiston is treating her eyes.

Mr. A. D. Andrews went to Lewiston Wednesday for examination and possible treatment for his leg which was so badly broken two years ago. It is sincerely hoped that no serious trouble will be found.

Several from here attended Grange at West Paris last Saturday and report a good time. The State Master was present and installed the officers.

A CATECHISM OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Contributed by The United Americans of the State of Maine, Casco Bank Building, Portland, Maine

(Published by arrangement with The National Security League)

Lesson 3

Q. What are the important duties of the Senate apart from the enactment of laws?

A. The Senate is empowered under the Constitution to act as a court when the President is impeached by the House of Representatives. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice presides and no person can be convicted without the consent of two-thirds of all the members present. The Senate is also a part of the treaty-making power. A two-thirds vote of the senators is necessary to ratify a treaty.

Q. How often shall Congress assemble?

A. At least once in every year and each meeting shall be on the first Monday in December unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

Q. What constitutes a quorum in the Senate and the House?

A. For ordinary business, a majority.

Q. What provision is made in the Constitution regarding adjournment?

A. Neither House during the session of Congress shall without the consent of the other adjourn for more than three days nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Q. What privileges are accorded senators and representatives?

A. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Q. What restriction is placed upon senators and representatives?

A. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created or the salary or fees whereof shall have been increased during such time, and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office.

Q. What is the provision regarding laws taxing the people?

A. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives but the Senate may propose or concur in amendments as on other bills.

Q. In the action of Congress final
